KATHRYN BROOKS LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT PERPETUAL AWARD
past recipients listed at www.alaskadressage.org

This award is named in honor of one of our co-founders Kathy Brooks. Kathy, along with her husband Steve and her third level horse Sunny, moved to Alaska in 1979 where the only dressage classes she found were those held in open shows with unrecognized judges. Often, the score sheets from these classes had only the score and no comments. The need for a dressage association was obvious to her and by January of 1980 ADA had been incorporated. Qualified judges were retained and AHSA (now USEF) and USDF- recognized dressage shows began in Alaska. The first ADA show was held in the summer of 1980.

Kathy was an example of excellence in dressage in Alaska at that time. Her horse, tack and attire were exemplary, as well as her attitude and her enthusiasm. There was no end to the time that she spent in creating the Alaska Dressage Association and welcoming members to be a part of this group dedicated to promoting excellence in dressage.

Kathy continued being active in the association until her return to Alexandria, Virginia in 1987 with her husband Steve, her two young children and, of course, Sunny. She returned to be near the National Institute of Health in Bethesda, Maryland where she was being treated for melanoma. She continued being a member of ADA and to keep in touch with her usual enthusiasm until her death in 1993 at the age of 47.

The Award

The award was designed and constructed by Alaskan artist Carol Gelvin. It is a horse and rider carved in alabaster stone and Osage orange wood and sits on a base of redwood. Steel spurs, Athabascan glass beads, Alaska Native moose leather and moose bone for the dressage arena letters are other materials that were used in the construction.

As the award is intended to honor lifetime achievement it will be awarded only once to any recipient. In keeping with the special nature of the award it will be granted only when a worthy person is nominated, which may not occur every year.

The award is a traveling award and must be returned with its case to ADA prior to the Annual Awards Banquet each year so that it may be given to the new recipient. It will bear the name of all of the recipients and will be engraved each year.

Qualifications for Nominees

Nominees must:

1. Be ADA members.
2. Have worked to promote interest in dressage in Alaska, exemplifying through their own efforts, high standards in promoting dressage in Alaska.
3. Have contributed time and talent to ADA activities.
4. Have set an example in exhibiting good sportsmanship.

Procedures for the Award

1. Nominations will be accepted from the membership. A form available on the ADA website specifically addressing the four qualifications for nominees listed above must be completed for the nomination and submitted to the nominating committee by September 30th.
2. The board of directors will review all nominees and select a maximum of three who have been found to meet qualifications. If no nominees adequately fulfill the qualifications, the board may choose not to present the award for that year.
3. These nominees will be voted upon by the membership at the same time as the annual election of board members. If only one qualified nominee is presented the board of directors may vote to grant the award without asking for a vote from the general membership.
4. A description of Kathryn Brooks, recipients of the award from previous years, the award qualifications, and a biography of each nominee should appear on the ballot.
5. The recipient will be the individual who receives the most votes.
6. The award will be presented at the Annual Awards Banquet properly engraved with recipient's name. ADA President shall ensure engraving of award prior to banquet.

CHRISTINE ERIKSON ADA SUPER VOLUNTEER AWARD

past recipients listed at www.alaskadressage.org

This award is bestowed as merited (not necessarily on an annual basis) to the volunteer who has done the extraordinary for three or more dressage show seasons. The recipient need not be an ADA member, but ADA board members are eligible. The Show Committee chairperson, under the advisement of the Show Committee, will formally select the recipient of the super volunteer award.

This award was initiated in 2004 through a donation from Christine Erikson, a long-time dressage supporter and volunteer, who died in 2005. Susie Merritt was the first recipient in 2004 and Christine herself was the recipient in 2005.

DRESSAGE SUPER SENIOR AWARD

past recipients listed at www.alaskadressage.org

This award is sponsored in loving memory of Strut Along Dandy, a beautiful AQHA red dun gelding owned by Linda and Jim Kelley, who was truly a Super Senior. He was a life-long competitor in halter, trail, western, dressage, and costume classes. He began his dressage career later than most and was always a super dressage ring companion. He came up from the pasture whenever his name was called ready for whatever his owners wanted to do, including giving many youngsters and several adults their "first ride." He was a once-in-a-lifetime equine companion who is dearly missed. Dandy left this world many years too soon on December 22, 1999. A photo frame engraved with Dressage Super Senior Award, the horse's name, and the year in which the award is earned will be presented to the owner.

Dressage Seat Medal (previously ASH award)

Open to Junior and Amateur riders. Riders will earn a median score on two different horses at two different levels. The median score from each horse will be averaged together. This final average must be at least 60%.

Qualifications

1. A rider must earn scores on two different horses and at two different levels (not necessarily consecutive levels).
2. A minimum of six scores from USEF-licensed/USDF-recognized competitions must be earned on each horse. If one of the test levels being ridden is FEI, only three scores will be required from that horse.
3. Scores must be earned at a minimum of three shows and from three different judges.
4. At least one score on each horse must be at the highest test of the level and be a minimum score of 55%. If one of the test levels being ridden is FEI, one score must be a minimum of 55%.
5. No more than two of the six scores on each horse may be of Test 1 of the level; exception is FEI level.

All eligible scores will be recorded for each horse on which the rider earns scores, however, only the top two scores from each individual judge for each horse will count toward the median score calculation. If only one score is earned from an individual judge that score will count toward the median score. The scores from the highest test of the level are not required to be included in the median. The median score is the score exactly between the highest and lowest scores when all scores are ranked from highest to lowest. For an even number of scores, the two middle scores are averaged. The median score from each horse will then be averaged. The highest average score will determine the winner. The final score must be at least 60%.
